- 2) if the claim is filed on paper, within forty-five (45) days after the date the claim is received by the claims administrator.

If Employer or its claims administrator fail to pay or deny a claim within the time limits specified above, the Plan may be required to pay interest on the claim as allowable by state law.

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS: All benefits are payable to an Employee. If an Employee dies before a benefit to which he was entitled is paid, the Employer or its claims administrator have the right to pay the named Beneficiary. The Weekly Benefit will be calculated and paid in United States dollars, and when necessary, it will be based on the exchange rate effective on the first day of the Elimination Period.

NOTIFICATION OF THE CLAIM DECISION: The Employer or its claims administrator will send the Employee written notice of the claim decision within 45 days after receiving due proof of loss. If there are special circumstances that require more time, the Employer or its claims administrator will send the Employee a written notice within this timeframe that an additional 30 days is needed. If more time is still needed to make a claim determination, the Employer or its claims administrator will send the Employee written notice during this initial 30 day extension stating the special circumstances that require an additional 30 days.

If the claims administrator requests additional information, the Employee will have 45 days to respond to the request, and the Employer or its claims administrator will send written notice of their claim decision within 30 days after the claims administrator receives the Employee's response.

If the claim is wholly or partly denied, the Employer's or its claims administrator's notice will include:

- 1) reasons for such denial;
- 2) reference to specific Plan provisions, rules or guidelines on which the denial was based;
- 3) a description of the additional information needed to support the claim;
- 4) information concerning the Employee's rights to request that the Employer or its claims administrator review the decision; and
- 5) a description of the Employer's or its claims administrator's review procedures, and time limits, and notice to the Employee of the Employee's right to bring a civil action.

RIGHT TO APPEAL: When this Plan is governed by ERISA, if an Employee wishes to appeal the decision made by the Employer or its claims administrator, Employees or their authorized representatives are allowed 180 days following receipt of a notification of an adverse benefit determination within which to appeal the determination. Employees are allowed the opportunity to submit written comments, documents, records and other information relating to the claim for benefits. The Employee is entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records and other information relevant to the Employee's claim for benefits. Whether a document, record or other information is relevant to a claim for benefits shall be determined by reference to paragraph (m)(8) of 29 C.F.R. § 2560.503-1. The Employer or its claims administrator will review the claim promptly after receiving the Employee's request to review the denial of all or part of his claim. The Employer's or its claims administrator's review will take into account all written comments, documents, records and other information submitted by the Employee relating to the claim, without regard to whether such information was submitted or considered in the initial benefit determination. An Employee has a right to obtain the information about any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the Plan described in paragraph (c)(3)(iv) of 29 C.F.R. § 2560.503-1 and has a right to bring an action under section 502(a) of ERISA. The Employer or its claims administrator will advise the Employee of the results of their review within 45 days after the

SECTION 7A - CLAIM PROCEDURES

Employer or its claims administrator receives the request, or within 90 days if there are special circumstances that require more time. A final determination will be provided pursuant to 29 C.F.R. § 2560.503-1. The Employee's appeal will be decided based on all of the available information, and the information submitted will be considered even if it was not considered in the initial claims decision. The Employer's or its claims administrator's decision will be in writing and will include reference to specific Plan provisions, rules or guidelines on which the decision was based, and notice of the Employee's right to bring a civil action.

Claim Denial Procedure:

- a. An adverse benefit determination includes a denial, reduction, or termination of, or a failure to provide or make payment for (in whole or in part) a benefit.
- b. If a claim for benefits is denied in whole or in part, the Employee or claimant will receive a written denial that will include the following:
 - i. the specific reason(s) for the denial;
 - ii. the specific reference to the Plan provision on which the denial was based;
 - iii. a description of any additional material or information which he might be required to furnish and an explanation of why it is needed;
 - iv. information on how to submit a claim for review, review procedures and time limits, and a statement of his right to bring a civil action under ERISA section 502(a) if applicable; and
 - v. if an adverse benefit determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination will be provided free of charge upon request.
 - vi. a statement that the Employee has the right to obtain upon request a copy of any internal rule, guideline, protocol or other criteria relied upon in making the denial, upon his request and free of charge.
- c. The Employee, his beneficiary, or authorized representative may appeal any denial of a claim for benefits under the Plan by submitting a written request for review to the Employer or its claims administrator. The Employee's request for review must be filed within 180 days for disability claims after written notice is given of denial of the claim. As part of the review process, the Employee, his beneficiary, or authorized representative may: (i) submit written comments, documents, records, and other information relating to the claim; and (ii) upon request and free of charge, have reasonable access to and copies of all documents, records, and other information relevant to the claim for benefits.
- d. A written decision on the appeal will be rendered by the Employer or its claims administrator within 45 days after the receipt of the Employee's request for review. An additional 45 days may be required in special cases, and the Employee will be notified of the need for additional time and be given an explanation as to why more time is needed. The final decision may not be delayed beyond 90 days following the date of the Employee's written request for review. Before denying an Employee's appeal, the Employer or its claims administrator will provide the Employee, free of charge, with any new or additional evidence considered, relied upon, or generated in connection with consideration of the Employee's appeal. Likewise, before denying an Employee's claim based on a new or additional rationale, the Employer or its claims administrator will provide the Employee, free of charge, with a statement of the rationale. The new or additional evidence or rationale will be provided to the Employee as soon as possible and sufficiently in advance of the date by which the Employee's appeal must be decided so that the Employee has a reasonable opportunity to respond.
- e. If the Employee or claimant's appeal for benefits is denied, he will receive a written notice of denial, which will include the following in a manner calculated to be understood by the Employee:
 - i. the specific reason(s) for the adverse determination;

SECTION 7A - CLAIM PROCEDURES

SECTION 7A - CLAIM PROCEDURES

- ii. the specific reference to the Plan provision(s) on which the benefit determination was based;
- iii. a statement that he is entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to his claim for benefits;
- iv. a statement describing any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the Plan. The notice will also describe the Plan's review procedures and his right to obtain the information about such procedures free of charge, related time limits and a statement of his right to bring a civil action under Section 502(a) of ERISA, if applicable;
- v. a statement that the Employee has the right to a copy of any of the following, upon his request and free of charge:
 - Any internal rule, guideline, protocol or other criteria relied upon by the Employer in making the adverse determination
 - The views of medical or vocational experts whose advice was obtained on behalf of the Employer in connection with a claimant's adverse benefit determination, without regard to whether the advice was relied upon in making the benefit determination; or
 - A disability determination made by the Social Security Administration regarding the claimant and presented by the claimant to the Employer.

RIGHT OF RECOVERY: If benefits have been received for which the Employee was not entitled to receive under this Plan, then full reimbursement to the Employer is required. Such reimbursement is required whether the overpayment is due to intentional or innocent misrepresentations by the Employee, intentional or innocent misrepresentations by an entity supplying the Employer or its claims administrator with information, a claims processing error or miscalculation or for any other reason. If reimbursement is not made, then the Employer has the right, as allowed under law to:

- 1) reduce future benefits payable to Employee or any other payee, until full reimbursement is made;
- 2) recover such overpayments from the Employee or his estate;
- 3) take any appropriate collection activity available to it; and
- 4) take legal action.

If the Employer chooses not to use benefit payments towards the reimbursement, this will not constitute a waiver of the Employer's rights to reimbursement. This provision will be in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other compensation available to the Employer by law.

The Employer or its claims administrator, has the responsibility to correct any underpayment due to the Employee as a result of a claims processing error or miscalculation by the Employer or its claims administrator for any other reason.

SUBROGATION RIGHTS: The Employer have the right to be subrogated to any rights an Employee may have against a Third Party. The Employer agrees to pay its portion of a Employee's attorneys' fee or other costs associated with a claim or lawsuit to the extent that the Employer recovers any portion of the benefits paid under this Plan pursuant to the Employer's right of subrogation.

The Employer may, at its option, bring legal action to recover benefits it paid in connection with a Employee's Disability. The Employer may do this if a Employee:

- 1) suffers a Disability and, because of any act or omission of a Third Party, becomes entitled to and is paid benefits under this Plan; and
- 2) does not initiate legal action for the recovery of such benefits from the Third Party within a reasonable period of time.

The Employer's right to be subrogated may not be enforced until the injured Employee has been fully compensated for his injuries.

To the extent not preempted by ERISA, the Plan will be construed in accordance with the laws of the state in which the Employer is domiciled.

SECTION 7A - CLAIM PROCEDURES

SECTION 7A - CLAIM PROCEDURES

When the Plan is Governed by ERISA, Statement of ERISA Rights

As a participant in the Plan, the Employee may be entitled to certain rights and protections under the Employee Retirement Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). ERISA provides that all Plan participants shall be entitled to:

Receive Information About the Employee's Plan and Benefits

- a. Examine, without charge, at the Plan Administrator's office and at other specified locations, such as worksites and union halls, all Plan documents including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 series) filed by the Plan with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.
- b. Obtain, upon written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of documents governing the operation of the Plan, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated summary Plan description. The administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.
- c. Receive a summary of the Plan's annual financial report. The Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant with a copy of this summary annual report.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the Plan. The people who operate the Plan, called "fiduciaries" of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of the Employee and other Plan participants and beneficiaries.

No one, including the Employer, a union, or any other person, may fire the Employee or otherwise discriminate against the Employee in any way to prevent the Employee from obtaining a welfare benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If the Employee's claim for a welfare benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, the Employee has a right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA, there are steps the Employee can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if the Employee requests a copy of Plan documents or the latest annual report from the Employer and does not receive them within thirty (30) days, the Employee may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan administrator to provide the materials and pay the Employee up to $110 a day until the Employee receives the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the administrator.

If the Employee has a claim for benefits that is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, the Employee may file suit in a state or federal court, subject to the provisions of the Legal Action section above. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan's money, or if the Employee is discriminated against for asserting his rights, the Employee may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or the Employee may file suit in a federal court, subject to the provisions of the Legal Action section above.

The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If the Employee is successful, the court may order the person the Employee has sued to pay these costs and fees. If the Employee loses, the court may order the Employee to pay these costs and fees, for example, if it finds the Employee's claim is frivolous.

Assistance with Employee Questions

If an Employee has any questions about his Plan, he should contact the Plan Administrator. If the Employee has any questions about this statement or about his rights under ERISA, or if the Employee needs assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, he should contact the nearest area office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA), U.S. Department of Labor, listed in the telephone directory, or the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, EBSA, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20210. An Employee may also obtain certain publications about his rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the EBSA publications hotline 1-866-444-3272 or viewing its website at www.dol.gov/ebsa.

GOVERNING LAW: When Plan is governed by ERISA, Plan is primarily subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”), as well as other various federal laws.

SECTION 8 – BENEFIT PROVISIONS

WEEKLY BENEFIT PAYMENTS: Disability benefits will be paid, according to this Plan, if an Employee becomes Disabled while an eligible Employee in the Plan. The Plan Administrator or its claims administrator must receive proof that an Employee is Disabled due to Sickness or Injury and requires the Regular Attendance of a legally qualified Physician. A Weekly Benefit will be paid to the Employee after the Employee satisfies the Elimination Period. The Elimination Period must be satisfied by Disability.

The Weekly Benefit will be paid as long as Disability continues; provided that proof of continued Disability is submitted to the Employer or its claims administrator upon request and the Employee is under the Regular Attendance and care of a Physician. The proof must be submitted at the Employee's expense. Weekly Benefits will not be paid during any period that an Employee is incarcerated in a penal or correctional institution.

The Weekly Benefit will not exceed the Employee's Maximum Weekly Benefit, nor will it be payable for longer than the Maximum Benefit Duration. The Maximum Weekly Benefit and the Maximum Benefit Duration are stated in the Schedule of Benefits.

PRORATING OF THE WEEKLY BENEFIT: The eligible Weekly Benefit will be paid on a weekly basis. For any period of Disability less than one week, the Weekly Benefit payment will be paid on a pro-rata basis at the rate of 1/7 per day.

REDUCTIONS TO THE WEEKLY BENEFIT: The Gross Weekly Benefit will be reduced by Other Income Benefits.

SECTION 8 – BENEFIT PROVISIONS

COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT FREEZE: If the Employee receives a cost of living increase, with regard to Other Income Benefits, after the date benefits actually become payable under this Plan, the Weekly Benefit will not be further reduced by such cost of living increase. For purposes of this provision, a cost of living increase is any annual increase reasonably related to the annual increase in any generally recognized cost of living measurement that applies to all Employees who are entitled to receive such benefits.

LUMP SUM PAYMENTS: Other Income Benefits that are paid in a lump sum, will be prorated over the stated period of time the lump sum was projected to apply. Lump sums projected to cover the Employee's life expectancy will be prorated based on appropriate actuarial tables. If the projected period of time that a lump sum is intended to cover is not stated, the lump sum will be prorated, over the Employee's life expectancy based on appropriate actuarial tables.

Regardless of how benefits from the Employer's Retirement Plan are distributed, contributions made by the Employee and Employer will be treated as if they were distributed simultaneously throughout the Employee's lifetime.

APPLICATION FOR OTHER INCOME BENEFITS: If the Employee is or becomes eligible for any Other Income Benefit, he must:

- 1) apply for the Other Income Benefits; and
- 2) appeal any denial for the Other Income Benefit that appears unreasonable;
- 3) provide satisfactory proof of application for Other Income Benefits;
- 4) provide satisfactory proof that all appeals for Other Income Benefits have been made, unless the Employer determines that further appeals are not likely to succeed;
- 5) sign a reimbursement agreement; and
- 6) provide satisfactory proof that Other Income Benefits were denied.

Until approval or denial of any Other Income Benefits for any Disability is determined, payments will be made as indicated below.

The Weekly Benefit will be paid after the Elimination Period, with no reduction for estimated benefits until the appropriate entity has reached a decision. When a decision is reached, the Employee must send the Employer or its claims administrator a copy of the determination and reimburse the Employer for any overpayment made as a result of that decision, regardless of whether or not the Employee is still an eligible Employee under the Plan on the date the Employee recovers such amount.

Additionally, if an award is made, the Weekly Benefit will be reduced by the amount of the Other Income Benefits the Employee received, in accordance with the terms of this Plan.

SECTION 8 – BENEFIT PROVISIONS

MINIMUM WEEKLY BENEFIT: While a Weekly Benefit is payable under this Plan, the Weekly Benefit shall not be reduced to an amount less than the Minimum Weekly Benefit indicated in the Schedule of Benefits.

TERMINATION OF THE WEEKLY BENEFIT: The Weekly Benefit will cease on the EARLIEST of the following:

- 1) the date Current Weekly Income equals or exceeds 80% of the Pre-Disability Earnings;
- 2) the date that the Employee ceases to be Disabled;
- 3) the date the Plan terminates or ceases to exist;
- 4) the date the Employee dies;
- 5) the date the Maximum Benefit Duration, shown on the Schedule of Benefits, is completed;
- 6) the date the Employee fails to give the claims administrator or the Employer required proof of Disability or information required by the Plan or its claims administrator to determine if any benefits are owed under this Plan;
- 7) the date the Employee refuses to allow an examination requested by the Plan's claims administrator or the Employer;
- 8) the date the Employee is no longer under the Regular Attendance and care of a Physician;
- 9) the date the Employee leaves the United States or Canada and establishes his residence in any other country. An Employee will be considered to reside outside these countries when the Employee has been outside the United States or Canada for a total period of 6 months or more during any 12 consecutive months of benefits; or
- 10) the date the Employee's employment with the Employer terminates.

RESIDUAL BENEFIT: The Elimination Period can be met using Total Disability, Partial Disability, or a combination of both.

RECURRENT DISABILITY: If, after a period of Disability for which benefits are payable, the Employee resumes his Regular Job as a Full-Time Employee and performs each Material and Substantial Duty of that Job for a continuous period of 14 consecutive days of Full-Time Employee work, any Recurrent Disability will be part of a new period of Disability and a new Elimination Period must be completed before any further Weekly Benefits are payable.

If the Employee resumes his Regular Job as a Full-Time Employee and performs each Material and Substantial Duty of that Job for less than 14 consecutive days of Full-Time Employee work, a Recurrent Disability will be part of the same period of Disability. The Recurrent Disability must be the direct result of the Injury or Sickness that caused the prior Disability. The Employee will not have to complete a new Elimination Period. Benefit payments will be subject to the terms of this Plan for the prior Disability. The benefit will be based on the amount of Basic Weekly Earnings in effect immediately prior to the original Elimination Period.

The Recurrent Disability provision will cease if benefits are payable to the Employee under any other group short term disability welfare benefit plan.

PRESUMPTIVE DISABILITY: When an Employee is Partially Disabled and his Current Weekly Income is 20% or less than his Pre-Disability Earnings, the Plan will not reduce the Weekly Benefit by Current Weekly Income.

BENEFITS WHILE PARTIALLY DISABLED: When proof is received that an Employee is Partially Disabled, then the Partial Disability Benefit applies. Benefits are payable following completion of the Elimination Period. The Partial Disability must be the direct result of the Injury or Sickness that caused the Disability immediately preceding it.

PARTIAL DISABILITY BENEFIT: The benefit for Partial Disability will be calculated as follows:

- a) Subtract the Employee's Current Weekly Income from the Employee's Pre-Disability Earnings.
- b) Divide the answer in Item a) by the Employee's Pre-Disability Earnings. The result is the Employee's percentage of lost earnings.
- c) From the Employee's Gross Weekly Benefit, subtract any Other Income Benefits.
- d) Multiply the answer in Item b) by the answer in Item c). This is the Employee's benefit for Partial Disability.

SECTION 8 – BENEFIT PROVISIONS

SECTION 8 – BENEFIT PROVISIONS

Benefits for Partial Disability will never exceed the Employee's Maximum Weekly Benefit, nor be less than the Minimum Weekly Benefit as shown on the Schedule of Benefits.

If the Employee's Current Weekly Income fluctuates, the Partial Disability Benefit will not terminate until the three weeks average of Current Weekly Income exceeds 80 % of your Pre-disability Earnings.

SECTION 8 – BENEFIT PROVISIONS

The Return to Work Benefit will continue as shown above until the EARLIEST of the following date:

- 1) the date Current Weekly Income equals or exceeds 80% of the Pre-Disability Earnings;
- 2) the date that the Employee ceases to be Disabled;
- 3) the date the Plan terminates or ceases to exist;
- 4) the date the Employee dies;
- 5) the date the Maximum Benefit Duration, shown on the Schedule of Benefits, is completed;
- 6) the date the Employee fails to give the claims administrator or the Employer required proof of Disability or information required by the Plan or its claims administrator to determine if any benefits are owed under this Plan;
- 7) the date the Employee refuses to allow an examination requested by the Plan's claims administrator or the Employer;
- 8) the date the Employee is no longer under the Regular Attendance and care of a Physician;
- 9) the date the Employee leaves the United States or Canada and establishes his residence in any other country. An Employee will be considered to reside outside these countries when the Employee has been outside the United States or Canada for a total period of 6 months or more during any 12 consecutive months of benefits; or
- 10) the date the Employee's employment with the Employer terminates.

SECTION 9 - EXCLUSIONS

GENERAL EXCLUSIONS: This Plan does not cover any Disability caused by, contributed to by, or resulting from:

- 1) participation in war or any act of war, declared or undeclared;
- 2) active participation in a riot;
- 3) attempted suicide, regardless of mental capacity;
