

Seniors understanding email, websites, "www", and the internet DESIGNED FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Computer instructor and author Mike Wilson will demonstrate how to create a free email account. During this workshop you will learn how to: email, forward email, reply, save pictures, and send attachments. See how folders and emails are created and organized. Understand how browsers and contacts work as well as move and delete emails. Explore websites in class to: get cooking recipes, play 100's free games, check weather, plan trips, get answers & advice, watch 100's of movies, shop for 1000's of items, research topics, read 100's of newspapers, get free stuff, get all sports information, check stock market, create, customize, print a grocery list, visit senior websites, do crossword puzzles, & 1000's more things to explore on your own with your great reference book! Not for Apple/Mac users.

See what people are saying about
Mike Wilson at: www.ourseniorhelp.com

Registration Code: SFAP-1528-T0502

Date: Thursday, April 25, 2019

Time: 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. (1 hour lunch, bring your lunch)

Fee: $79.00 (includes book and materials)

Location: Auburn Hills Campus,
2900 Featherstone Road
M-TEC Building, Room 239

OAKLAND COMMUNITY COLLEGE™
Economic and Workforce Development

Register online at www.oaklandcc.edu/ce or for more information call 248.232.4167 or 248.232.4150